... Salary

(Continued from Page 1) travel expenses, want to have a provision in the new City Charter stating that councilmen's salaries shall be equal to those of general law cities of comparable size. This would immediately raise their salaries to $300 per month.

Councilman Ken Miller supported Sciarrotta's remarks, stating that it was discouraging to him as a city council member to hear the facts "twisted around."

"When Bert Lynn gets up and tells the Charter Review Committee 'I'm glad to see you're not a rubber stamp group,' the committee will get the wrong impression of City Council motives," Miller said.

COUNCILMAN Jay Beasley blasted Lynn for speaking against council raises in previous years, stating that he would not vote against a measure to remove the salary question from the ballot. "I'm not going to get down on my knees, kiss his hand, and tell him that the City Council has conceded to his views again," Beasley said of Lynn.

The question of salary raises was submitted to local voters two years ago and was

El Camino Will Offer Nuclear Science Class

Studying nuclear fallout, and perhaps preventing it, is healthier than inhaling it, and El Camino College agrees.

Nuclear Science 10, a class in the basic theories and peacetime applications of nuclear science, will be offered during the spring semester to help meet the demand for technical training in the nuclear field.

Lecture topics to be considered include the nuclear energy levels, nuclear stability, nuclear particles, binding energy of nuclei, the radioactive disintegration laws, health physics and the effect of radiation on materials and biological systems.

Warren E. Ford, who will instruct the course, is a graduate of the University of Iowa and Western Illinois University and has studied nuclear science at UCLA, Oregon

State University, Louisiana State University, and Iowa State University.

The course is scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday evenings, with lecture from 6 to 7:30 p.m. either Tuesday or Thursday.

The course begins Feb. 6, with registration beginning Jan. 29. The last day to register is Feb. 2.

Prerequisites for the course are high school chemistry, physics or equivalent, mathematics D and intermediate algebra.

Workshop Set

Registration for a second Writers' Workshop to be sponsored by the Gardena Recreation and Parks Department will be held Wednesday, Feb. 7, at the Gardena Community Center, 1651 W. 162nd St.

The class will meet each Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Community Center. Mrs. Dana Lyon, who has taught creative writing and is herself the author of 18 published novels, is the instructor.

Elks Week Proclaimed By Hahn

In cooperation with the Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn has proclaimed this week as "Freedom Week" throughout Los Angeles County.

During this special observance, the Elks sponsor educational and patriotic programs recognizing the thousands of naturalized American citizens who each year declare allegiance to the United States of America as their country.

Hahn asked that the special proclamation be sent to Barney Palent, exalted ruler of Inglewood Elks Lodge.

A teenage passenger in the rear seat of the car had been throwing paper sacks out of the window while the car was fleeing. The sacks were found to contain bottles of beer. More beer cans were found on the car seat, police said.
